

Job Search Activity

Tuesday, January 3, 2011

Craig's List

Description: Retail Photo Specialist

Date of Posting: 2012-01-04, 5:21PM EST

Reply to: job-fbpxf-2783499615@craigslist.org

Monster.com

Other

1. Walked pass a Chinese Restaurant just north of Gramacy Park on Madison Ave with a help wanted in the window.
2. Stopped into the DVD store up the block from Grace Church in response to a help wanted in the window. Jas0913@aol.com
3. Stopped in at Bowery Mission and declined an offer for lunch and a shower. I listened to sermon instead. I found that business clothing is available on Mondays and Friday.

Additional requisite information concerning search:

1. Walked to Midtown NYPL before breakfast and returned for lunch at Third Street.
2. Mentioned Pack It Away, a moving company in Brooklyn to somebody at Third Street.

Observations:

New Years Eve of 2011 when Rafael was manipulated out of CAMBA Opportunity House by a CAMBA employee who would also casually say absurd statements to me such as "Don't wear your baseball cap in bed," or "Don't walk with your tongue hanging out of your mouth," for no reason other than to antagonize are the type of reflections that effect my decision making process.

Project Renewal, in my opinion is inept and my case manager is insincere.

Project Renewal Third Street is much improved in comparison to my previous stay.

From conversations and interactions I've had with convicts jail time seems rougher.

To Do List:

1. Expand job search.
2. Get the cell phone reactivated
3. Cover letters.